

MOBILE STANDS: TEAMMATE VARIHITE PRESENTER

TeamMate supports heavyweight large format displays

Technical furniture manufacturer TeamMate is now shipping its latest fully mobile integrated resource, the VariHite Presenter.

Building on the market success of its VariHite mobile stand for SMART interactive whiteboards, TeamMate has turned its attention to the challenges facing organisations installing large format displays with screen sizes up to 70in diagonal.

The VariHite Presenter is a self-contained mobile stand aesthetically designed to blend in with corporate surroundings, whilst at the same time meeting the high demands and pressures of education needs. Designed around the adaptable TeamMate lift and lower technology, the VariHite Presenter will easily accommodate large format displays up to 145 kg and can be easily moved around the organisation when fully lowered.

The built in rack enclosure is ideal for fitting other AV and IT peripherals, with a handy input/output patch panel for ease of connection to other display devices or input media. The lift and lower mechanism of the TeamMate VariHite Presenter also allows easy height adjustment of the large format display providing the right height and comfort level for any user.

Two versions of the VariHite Presenter are available, the VH2 which handles displays up to 85kg, and the VH3 which accommodates heavier displays up to 145kg, including the new SMART 8070i interactive display.

The VariHite Presenter offers facilities staff a total mobile solution so they can create their own meeting environment, any place and any time. Used in conjunction with SMART Technologies' collaborative solutions - such as the 6052i and larger format 8070i Interactive Display - users can easily create their own connected 'meeting room' where dispersed staff can instantly set up a data conference, utilise touch screen commands, write in digital ink over any application, generate and integrate data, share desktops, and write and save notes immediately with colleagues anywhere in the world.

Being a self-contained resource, the stylish rack enclosures provides ample space for other presentation and multimedia devices such as DVD/Blu-Ray players, SMART Hub collaborative appliances, and SMART Bridgit conferencing software, to accommodate any evolving meeting and training needs.

Bringing the meeting to you

With office space at a premium, companies are looking at how to make the most of every square metre of their working space. Often when additional space is required, meeting rooms are sacrificed in order to provide the space needed. Now with the TeamMate VariHite Presenter, meeting space can be utilised in a more cost effective and productive way.

Furthermore with the squeeze on budgets still being felt in the corporate market, the TeamMate VariHite Presenter is the perfect solution for corporate organisations looking for ways to improve the effectiveness of their meeting areas and cannot afford to waste office space.

The latest edition to the TeamMate range helps organisations to overcome these problems. It combines the portability of the TeamMate VariHite Presenter with the interactivity of the SMART 8070i Interactive Display, helping organisations not only to improve the effectiveness of their meetings but to utilise their office space more efficiently.

The VariHite Presenter is shipped fully assembled out of the box, offering a fuss free versatile resource which can be easily set up by non technical staff. ■
